https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=pQJvAz8kLa8

http://redipal.diputados.gob.mx/

- In addition to objective legislative information/documentation, should we encourage legislators and the public to post their own (political) views, even when these are controversial, in order to provoke a broader debate?

- Is it worth continuing to develop collaborative social media platforms such as Redipal, or is it more effective/convenient to use individual social media platforms (Facebook, Twitter etc)?